

THE GREAT STRENGTHENING TONIC.
(Not a Whisky Preparation.)
HOOGLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
HAS PERFORMED MORE CURES,
GIVES BETTER SATISFACTION, HAS MORE TESTIMONY.

and has more respectable people to vouch for it, than any other article in the market.
We defy any one to contradict this assertion, and WILL PAY $1,000
to any one who will produce a certificate published by us that is not genuine.

REMEMBER,
THAT THIS BITTERS IS NOT ALCOHOLIC,
CONTAINS NO RUM OR WHISKY,
AND CANNOT MAKE DRUNKARDS, BUT IS THE BEST TONIC IN THE WORLD.

READ WHO SAYS SO.

From the Rev. Levi G. Beck, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Piquette, N. J., formerly of the North Baptist Church, Philadelphia, at present Pastor of the Baptist Church, Chester, Pa.

I have known Hoogland's German Bitters for nearly a number of years. I have used it in my own family, and have been pleased with its effects. It is a tonic and a stimulant, and it is a medicine. I have used it in many cases, and it has done me good. I have used it in many cases, and it has done me good. I have used it in many cases, and it has done me good.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

From the Rev. W. D. Seigrist, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Philadelphia, Pa.

Some eighteen months since I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters. I was a severe sufferer from Dr. Hoogland's German Bitters.

New-York

NEW-YORK, SATURDAY, APRIL 7, 1866. PRICE FOUR CENTS.

FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

CONGRESS.

A Proposition from Mr. Lane of Kansas.

The Civil Rights Bill Passes the Senate Over the President's Veto—33 to 15.

BROOKS VS. DODGE.

Mr. Brooks is Unseated—84 to 45, and Mr. Dodge Admitted—72 to 52.

MODIFICATION OF TEST OATHS.

Miscellaneous Intelligence.

WASHINGTON, Friday, April 6, 1866.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL AND THE VETO.

The passage of the Civil Rights bill over the Veto to-day, and the excitement before and after, has been such as to absorb nearly all else.

The opening of the debate by Kansas Lane soon showed that he had taken his final position, although he had no later than last night declared he would vote for the bill.

Senator Wade handled him without gloves, and he soon withdrew from the unequal contest. The result now seemed doubtful. About 2 o'clock p. m., a heavy shower fell, and the dampness caused thereby at once precluded the probability of Senator Dixon being able to leave his room. This soon became known, and all hope of sustaining the veto was at once abandoned. Senator Wright had been brought to the Senate to-day for the first time, but he soon retired to a side room. At about 3 p. m., it was rumored that Senator Morgan would vote for the bill, and the Democrats freely conceded that the veto could not be protected. At 4 p. m., Mr. Doolittle having closed his defense of his own course, and which he declared he should not respect the Legislature of his State, but would welcome political retirement with pleasure as soon as he could see the States all back in their places, to the surprise of many made no defense of the veto, and all seemed ready for a vote. Garrison Davis got the floor and made a two hours speech, nearly emptying the galleries and the floor. At 4 p. m., the House having adjourned, the members crowded into the Senate, and on Davis finally concluding with his threats that if such legislation as this bill and the Freedmen's Bureau bill were to be passed he would do all he could to destroy the Government (but his threats frightened no one), a dozen Senators asked for the question, but Mr. Sumner rose to pour out his denunciations of Congress, and to boast that in Delaware the law could not be executed, that his people would trample upon it, and that the Radical Senators were not only disunionists, but revolutionists, again the question was called for, when Mr. Yates remarked that he hoped the Senate would go on and do their duty. But Mr. McDougall must waste more time, but unlike Davis he never talks very long, and at 6:45 p. m. the roll-call commenced. When the name of Mr. Morgan was called, and he voted "aye," the galleries began to applaud, but the Chair promptly suppressed it, and the call went on. The new Senator from Vermont, Mr. Edmunds, was not in when his name was called, but just before the result was announced, he came in, and voted "aye." Then the Chair announced the result, 33 to 15, and the galleries broke out in loud cheers and applause. They were ordered to be cleared, but the cheering went on, until the audience were all gone. There seemed to be no hissing, no dissenting voices; all seemed gloriously happy over the result. The Senate soon adjourned, and many crowded around the Senators to congratulate them on their triumph.

MILITARY CLAIMS SETTLED.

PROMOTED.

Lieut.-Col. J. H. Taylor, Captain 6th United States Cavalry, and Assistant-Adjutant-General on the Staff of Gen. Angur, has been promoted to Assistant-Adjutant-General in the Regular Army, with the rank of Major, vice Gen. Seth Williams, deceased.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

at the following ports for the week ending March 31, were: New-York, $2,451,920; Boston, $354,190; Philadelphia, $168,301; Baltimore, $56,110. During the same month the receipts from this source from the above cities amounted to $13,458,228, of which sum nearly 90 per cent was contributed by the port of New-York.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

receipts to date, $850,742.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, in the assessment of the annual income, will not require of farmers the return of the value of their farm products consumed by themselves and families. The instructions to Assessors now being prepared will expressly authorize this relief.

BROOKS VS. DODGE.

The rejection of Brooks, and giving the seat to Dodge, has been expected for several days. The intemperate speech of Mr. Brooks lost him several votes, who were willing to give him the benefit of the doubt. He had anticipated the result for some days, but for the

FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

CONGRESS.

A Proposition from Mr. Lane of Kansas.

The Civil Rights Bill Passes the Senate Over the President's Veto—33 to 15.

BROOKS VS. DODGE.

Mr. Brooks is Unseated—84 to 45, and Mr. Dodge Admitted—72 to 52.

MODIFICATION OF TEST OATHS.

Miscellaneous Intelligence.

WASHINGTON, Friday, April 6, 1866.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL AND THE VETO.

The passage of the Civil Rights bill over the Veto to-day, and the excitement before and after, has been such as to absorb nearly all else.

The opening of the debate by Kansas Lane soon showed that he had taken his final position, although he had no later than last night declared he would vote for the bill.

Senator Wade handled him without gloves, and he soon withdrew from the unequal contest. The result now seemed doubtful. About 2 o'clock p. m., a heavy shower fell, and the dampness caused thereby at once precluded the probability of Senator Dixon being able to leave his room. This soon became known, and all hope of sustaining the veto was at once abandoned. Senator Wright had been brought to the Senate to-day for the first time, but he soon retired to a side room. At about 3 p. m., it was rumored that Senator Morgan would vote for the bill, and the Democrats freely conceded that the veto could not be protected. At 4 p. m., Mr. Doolittle having closed his defense of his own course, and which he declared he should not respect the Legislature of his State, but would welcome political retirement with pleasure as soon as he could see the States all back in their places, to the surprise of many made no defense of the veto, and all seemed ready for a vote. Garrison Davis got the floor and made a two hours speech, nearly emptying the galleries and the floor. At 4 p. m., the House having adjourned, the members crowded into the Senate, and on Davis finally concluding with his threats that if such legislation as this bill and the Freedmen's Bureau bill were to be passed he would do all he could to destroy the Government (but his threats frightened no one), a dozen Senators asked for the question, but Mr. Sumner rose to pour out his denunciations of Congress, and to boast that in Delaware the law could not be executed, that his people would trample upon it, and that the Radical Senators were not only disunionists, but revolutionists, again the question was called for, when Mr. Yates remarked that he hoped the Senate would go on and do their duty. But Mr. McDougall must waste more time, but unlike Davis he never talks very long, and at 6:45 p. m. the roll-call commenced. When the name of Mr. Morgan was called, and he voted "aye," the galleries began to applaud, but the Chair promptly suppressed it, and the call went on. The new Senator from Vermont, Mr. Edmunds, was not in when his name was called, but just before the result was announced, he came in, and voted "aye." Then the Chair announced the result, 33 to 15, and the galleries broke out in loud cheers and applause. They were ordered to be cleared, but the cheering went on, until the audience were all gone. There seemed to be no hissing, no dissenting voices; all seemed gloriously happy over the result. The Senate soon adjourned, and many crowded around the Senators to congratulate them on their triumph.

MILITARY CLAIMS SETTLED.

PROMOTED.

Lieut.-Col. J. H. Taylor, Captain 6th United States Cavalry, and Assistant-Adjutant-General on the Staff of Gen. Angur, has been promoted to Assistant-Adjutant-General in the Regular Army, with the rank of Major, vice Gen. Seth Williams, deceased.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

at the following ports for the week ending March 31, were: New-York, $2,451,920; Boston, $354,190; Philadelphia, $168,301; Baltimore, $56,110. During the same month the receipts from this source from the above cities amounted to $13,458,228, of which sum nearly 90 per cent was contributed by the port of New-York.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

receipts to date, $850,742.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, in the assessment of the annual income, will not require of farmers the return of the value of their farm products consumed by themselves and families. The instructions to Assessors now being prepared will expressly authorize this relief.

BROOKS VS. DODGE.

The rejection of Brooks, and giving the seat to Dodge, has been expected for several days. The intemperate speech of Mr. Brooks lost him several votes, who were willing to give him the benefit of the doubt. He had anticipated the result for some days, but for the

FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

CONGRESS.

A Proposition from Mr. Lane of Kansas.

The Civil Rights Bill Passes the Senate Over the President's Veto—33 to 15.

BROOKS VS. DODGE.

Mr. Brooks is Unseated—84 to 45, and Mr. Dodge Admitted—72 to 52.

MODIFICATION OF TEST OATHS.

Miscellaneous Intelligence.

WASHINGTON, Friday, April 6, 1866.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL AND THE VETO.

The passage of the Civil Rights bill over the Veto to-day, and the excitement before and after, has been such as to absorb nearly all else.

The opening of the debate by Kansas Lane soon showed that he had taken his final position, although he had no later than last night declared he would vote for the bill.

Senator Wade handled him without gloves, and he soon withdrew from the unequal contest. The result now seemed doubtful. About 2 o'clock p. m., a heavy shower fell, and the dampness caused thereby at once precluded the probability of Senator Dixon being able to leave his room. This soon became known, and all hope of sustaining the veto was at once abandoned. Senator Wright had been brought to the Senate to-day for the first time, but he soon retired to a side room. At about 3 p. m., it was rumored that Senator Morgan would vote for the bill, and the Democrats freely conceded that the veto could not be protected. At 4 p. m., Mr. Doolittle having closed his defense of his own course, and which he declared he should not respect the Legislature of his State, but would welcome political retirement with pleasure as soon as he could see the States all back in their places, to the surprise of many made no defense of the veto, and all seemed ready for a vote. Garrison Davis got the floor and made a two hours speech, nearly emptying the galleries and the floor. At 4 p. m., the House having adjourned, the members crowded into the Senate, and on Davis finally concluding with his threats that if such legislation as this bill and the Freedmen's Bureau bill were to be passed he would do all he could to destroy the Government (but his threats frightened no one), a dozen Senators asked for the question, but Mr. Sumner rose to pour out his denunciations of Congress, and to boast that in Delaware the law could not be executed, that his people would trample upon it, and that the Radical Senators were not only disunionists, but revolutionists, again the question was called for, when Mr. Yates remarked that he hoped the Senate would go on and do their duty. But Mr. McDougall must waste more time, but unlike Davis he never talks very long, and at 6:45 p. m. the roll-call commenced. When the name of Mr. Morgan was called, and he voted "aye," the galleries began to applaud, but the Chair promptly suppressed it, and the call went on. The new Senator from Vermont, Mr. Edmunds, was not in when his name was called, but just before the result was announced, he came in, and voted "aye." Then the Chair announced the result, 33 to 15, and the galleries broke out in loud cheers and applause. They were ordered to be cleared, but the cheering went on, until the audience were all gone. There seemed to be no hissing, no dissenting voices; all seemed gloriously happy over the result. The Senate soon adjourned, and many crowded around the Senators to congratulate them on their triumph.

MILITARY CLAIMS SETTLED.

PROMOTED.

Lieut.-Col. J. H. Taylor, Captain 6th United States Cavalry, and Assistant-Adjutant-General on the Staff of Gen. Angur, has been promoted to Assistant-Adjutant-General in the Regular Army, with the rank of Major, vice Gen. Seth Williams, deceased.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

at the following ports for the week ending March 31, were: New-York, $2,451,920; Boston, $354,190; Philadelphia, $168,301; Baltimore, $56,110. During the same month the receipts from this source from the above cities amounted to $13,458,228, of which sum nearly 90 per cent was contributed by the port of New-York.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

receipts to date, $850,742.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, in the assessment of the annual income, will not require of farmers the return of the value of their farm products consumed by themselves and families. The instructions to Assessors now being prepared will expressly authorize this relief.

BROOKS VS. DODGE.

The rejection of Brooks, and giving the seat to Dodge, has been expected for several days. The intemperate speech of Mr. Brooks lost him several votes, who were willing to give him the benefit of the doubt. He had anticipated the result for some days, but for the

FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

CONGRESS.

A Proposition from Mr. Lane of Kansas.

The Civil Rights Bill Passes the Senate Over the President's Veto—33 to 15.

BROOKS VS. DODGE.

Mr. Brooks is Unseated—84 to 45, and Mr. Dodge Admitted—72 to 52.

MODIFICATION OF TEST OATHS.

Miscellaneous Intelligence.

WASHINGTON, Friday, April 6, 1866.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL AND THE VETO.

The passage of the Civil Rights bill over the Veto to-day, and the excitement before and after, has been such as to absorb nearly all else.

The opening of the debate by Kansas Lane soon showed that he had taken his final position, although he had no later than last night declared he would vote for the bill.

Senator Wade handled him without gloves, and he soon withdrew from the unequal contest. The result now seemed doubtful. About 2 o'clock p. m., a heavy shower fell, and the dampness caused thereby at once precluded the probability of Senator Dixon being able to leave his room. This soon became known, and all hope of sustaining the veto was at once abandoned. Senator Wright had been brought to the Senate to-day for the first time, but he soon retired to a side room. At about 3 p. m., it was rumored that Senator Morgan would vote for the bill, and the Democrats freely conceded that the veto could not be protected. At 4 p. m., Mr. Doolittle having closed his defense of his own course, and which he declared he should not respect the Legislature of his State, but would welcome political retirement with pleasure as soon as he could see the States all back in their places, to the surprise of many made no defense of the veto, and all seemed ready for a vote. Garrison Davis got the floor and made a two hours speech, nearly emptying the galleries and the floor. At 4 p. m., the House having adjourned, the members crowded into the Senate, and on Davis finally concluding with his threats that if such legislation as this bill and the Freedmen's Bureau bill were to be passed he would do all he could to destroy the Government (but his threats frightened no one), a dozen Senators asked for the question, but Mr. Sumner rose to pour out his denunciations of Congress, and to boast that in Delaware the law could not be executed, that his people would trample upon it, and that the Radical Senators were not only disunionists, but revolutionists, again the question was called for, when Mr. Yates remarked that he hoped the Senate would go on and do their duty. But Mr. McDougall must waste more time, but unlike Davis he never talks very long, and at 6:45 p. m. the roll-call commenced. When the name of Mr. Morgan was called, and he voted "aye," the galleries began to applaud, but the Chair promptly suppressed it, and the call went on. The new Senator from Vermont, Mr. Edmunds, was not in when his name was called, but just before the result was announced, he came in, and voted "aye." Then the Chair announced the result, 33 to 15, and the galleries broke out in loud cheers and applause. They were ordered to be cleared, but the cheering went on, until the audience were all gone. There seemed to be no hissing, no dissenting voices; all seemed gloriously happy over the result. The Senate soon adjourned, and many crowded around the Senators to congratulate them on their triumph.

MILITARY CLAIMS SETTLED.

PROMOTED.

Lieut.-Col. J. H. Taylor, Captain 6th United States Cavalry, and Assistant-Adjutant-General on the Staff of Gen. Angur, has been promoted to Assistant-Adjutant-General in the Regular Army, with the rank of Major, vice Gen. Seth Williams, deceased.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

at the following ports for the week ending March 31, were: New-York, $2,451,920; Boston, $354,190; Philadelphia, $168,301; Baltimore, $56,110. During the same month the receipts from this source from the above cities amounted to $13,458,228, of which sum nearly 90 per cent was contributed by the port of New-York.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

receipts to date, $850,742.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, under the direction of the Secretary of the Treasury, in the assessment of the annual income, will not require of farmers the return of the value of their farm products consumed by themselves and families. The instructions to Assessors now being prepared will expressly authorize this relief.

BROOKS VS. DODGE.

The rejection of Brooks, and giving the seat to Dodge, has been expected for several days. The intemperate speech of Mr. Brooks lost him several votes, who were willing to give him the benefit of the doubt. He had anticipated the result for some days, but for the

FROM WASHINGTON.

OUR SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

CONGRESS.

A Proposition from Mr. Lane of Kansas.

The Civil Rights Bill Passes the Senate Over the President's Veto—33 to 15.

BROOKS VS. DODGE.

Mr. Brooks is Unseated—84 to 45, and Mr. Dodge Admitted—72 to 52.

MODIFICATION OF TEST OATHS.

Miscellaneous Intelligence.

WASHINGTON, Friday, April 6, 1866.

THE CIVIL RIGHTS BILL AND THE VETO.

The passage of the Civil Rights bill over the Veto to-day, and the excitement before and after, has been such as to absorb nearly all else.

The opening of the debate by Kansas Lane soon showed that he had taken his final position, although he had no later than last night declared he would vote for the bill.

Senator Wade handled him without gloves, and he soon withdrew from the unequal contest. The result now seemed doubtful. About 2 o'clock p. m., a heavy shower fell, and the dampness caused thereby at once precluded the probability of Senator Dixon being able to leave his room. This soon became known, and all hope of sustaining the veto was at once abandoned. Senator Wright had been brought to the Senate to-day for the first time, but he soon retired to a side room. At about 3 p. m., it was rumored that Senator Morgan would vote for the bill, and the Democrats freely conceded that the veto could not be protected. At 4 p. m., Mr. Doolittle having closed his defense of his own course, and which he declared he should not respect the Legislature of his State, but would welcome political retirement with pleasure as soon as he could see the States all back in their places, to the surprise of many made no defense of the veto, and all seemed ready for a vote. Garrison Davis got the floor and made a two hours speech, nearly emptying the galleries and the floor. At 4 p. m., the House having adjourned, the members crowded into the Senate, and on Davis finally concluding with his threats that if such legislation as this bill and the Freedmen's Bureau bill were to be passed he would do all he could to destroy the Government (but his threats frightened no one), a dozen Senators asked for the question, but Mr. Sumner rose to pour out his denunciations of Congress, and to boast that in Delaware the law could not be executed, that his people would trample upon it, and that the Radical Senators were not only disunionists, but revolutionists, again the question was called for, when Mr. Yates remarked that he hoped the Senate would go on and do their duty. But Mr. McDougall must waste more time, but unlike Davis he never talks very long, and at 6:45 p. m. the roll-call commenced. When the name of Mr. Morgan was called, and he voted "aye," the galleries began to applaud, but the Chair promptly suppressed it, and the call went on. The new Senator from Vermont, Mr. Edmunds, was not in when his name was called, but just before the result was announced, he came in, and voted "aye." Then the Chair announced the result, 33 to 15, and the galleries broke out in loud cheers and applause. They were ordered to be cleared, but the cheering went on, until the audience were all gone. There seemed to be no hissing, no dissenting voices; all seemed gloriously happy over the result. The Senate soon adjourned, and many crowded around the Senators to congratulate them on their triumph.

MILITARY CLAIMS SETTLED.

PROMOTED.

Lieut.-Col. J. H. Taylor, Captain 6th United States Cavalry, and Assistant-Adjutant-General on the Staff of Gen. Angur, has been promoted to Assistant-Adjutant-General in the Regular Army, with the rank of Major, vice Gen. Seth Williams, deceased.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS.

at the following ports for the week ending March 31, were: New-York, $2,451,920; Boston, $354,190; Philadelphia, $168,301; Baltimore, $56,110. During the same month the receipts from this source from the above cities amounted to $13,458,228, of which sum nearly 90 per cent was contributed by the port of New-York.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

receipts to date, $850,742.